London, Ont., Ap. 17.--Coal dealers from all parts of Canada meet here Thursday. Agreements will be signed to the effect that if retailers will purchase from the wholesale dealers who are in the association, the shippers will in return protect the retailers. An agreement will be entered into to regulate the prices of coal throughout the Dominion.

TEN HOURS FROM CHICAGO TO NEW YORK
Chicago, Ap. 17.--Ten hours between Chicago and New York on trains operated by electricity and making a speed of seventy-five miles per hour is the plan of the incorporators of the Chicago and New York Electric Railway Co.

THE OPEN DOOR
The following statement has been given out at the Washington Japanese Legation:

Owing to the fact that the withdrawal of the troops from Manchuria not having been completed the Japanese Government hitherto has neither permitted citizens and vessels of foreign countries to enter the ports and regions of Manchuria, nor allowed foreign Consuls to proceed to their posts therein. Considerable progress, however, having now been made in this respect, the Japanese Government has decided, in accordance with the principles of the open door and equal opportunity ever advocated by them, to permit citizens and vessels of foreign countries to enter from May 1st Antung Hsing and Tatum Kao, and to allow foreign Consuls to proceed to their posts at Antung Hsing. From June 1st foreign Consuls shall be allowed to proceed to their posts at Mukden, and travelling of foreigners in the interior of Manchuria will be permitted in so far as military exigencies do not prevent it. It has further been decided that the Japanese will open Dainey (Tallen Wan) to the commerce of the world in as near future as possible.

Judging from the present condition of the interior of Manchuria, it is impossible for the Japanese authorities to afford such foreign travellers adequate protection and facilities in housing and other matters. Those, therefore, who enter the interior of Manchuria do so entirely at their own risk, and the Japanese Government does not hold themselves responsible for any injury or damage which they may suffer from bandits or other marauders.

SIMMONS' MAJORITY IN LETHBRIDGE

Following was the vote by polls in the Lethbridge election on Thursday:

| Sim. Sher. Keffler | Raymond | Stirling | Taber | Rose Butte | White's | Pot Hole | Grassy Lake | South Little Bow | Lethbridge | Stafordville | St. Marys | North Little Bow | Big Bow | Little Bow Ranch | Bow Island |
|--------------------|---------|----------|-------|------------|---------|----------|-------------|------------------|------------|--------------|-----------|------------------|---------|------------------|------------|
| 78 | 1 | 16 | 62 | 1 | 20 | 31 | 4 | 8 | 13 | 5 | 1 | 18 | 11 | 0 | 1 |
| 12 | 7 | 2 | 12 | 7 | 2 | 5 | 2 | 5 | 187 | 174 | 136 | 15 | 132 | 3 | 8 |
| 12 | 7 | 2 | 12 | 7 | 2 | 5 | 2 | 5 | 187 | 174 | 136 | 15 | 132 | 3 | 8 |
| 12 | 7 | 2 | 12 | 7 | 2 | 5 | 2 | 5 | 187 | 174 | 136 | 15 | 132 | 3 | 8 |

Simmons' majority is 104 over Sherman and 261 over Keffler. The latter, the latter loses his deposit. The total vote polled was 1105. The total vote in the general election was only 1130 and then the sugar factory was in operation and there were this time a number of citizens of Raymond and Stirling absent on an excursion to Salt Lake City. There are about 100 challenged votes yet to be counted, about half of which are for Simmons and half for Sherman, so that the majority will be changed but little when the final count is made.

Making Progress at the Gas Well.

The statement made yesterday in an evening contemporary that operations had been suspended at the gas well is far from being correct. Mr. Ginter, the driller, returned Friday, from Pittsburgh, Pa., where he went to purchase a drilling rig for the Calgary people, who are going to put down a well. He is again in charge at the well and satisfactory progress is being made. At present they are putting the 7-8 inch casing down deeper, so as to allow of a larger casing at the deeper levels. This casing is now down 1200 feet and the intention is to put it down to 1400 or 1500 feet. The flow of gas which was struck at the 1600 is being conserved and is used for fuel for the drilling rig. In order to protect this gas Mr. Ginter has put down a double casing, allowing the gas to come up between the outside and the inside casing, and working in the inside casing. The stockholders figure that about 400 feet more will bring them into the main body of gas where a heavy flow should be struck.

HIGH PRICED HILARITY

Teutonic Merry-makers Who Wanted to Give a Free Concert and Had to Pay for it Themselves

The police force had a busy time last night taking care of the boys who hilarity got away with their caution and when the magistrates opened for business this morning there were ten cases before him. One man paid a fine for driving a bicycle on the sidewalk, another was assessed $5 and costs for fast driving, a British army man who had carried a rifle with Little Bobs in Afghanistan was up for flourishing a gun and several men paid fines for disorderly conduct. Of these, a party of five Germans had a real lively time until suppressed by the police. They got a team of horses and after doing a sort of wild drive about the streets, wound up in the market square, where they undertook to pull off an impromptu concert in their native tongue. Their singing was not exactly good, but it was loud enough and when one of the blue-coated minions of the law protested that their harmony was not in accordance with the statutes, they gave him the broad Teutonic ha ha, and undertook to drive off. It cost them $5 per German to settle with the magistrates this morning. While their case was proceeding in the police court this morning, a sixth German, who was probably an old man with the merry-makers, but went overboard early in the evening on an alcoholic wave, stumbled into the court room and went to sleep on a chair. He was promptly furnished with a room down stairs and will have a chance to explain matters when the cobwebs are effect from his brain by the effluvia of time and compulsory abstinence.

WORSHIP UNDER POLICE GUARD

Chicago Churches Must Conform to the Building Laws

Chicago, April 17.--As a result of a panic at a Roman Catholic church Saturday when three girls were killed and more than a score of persons injured all the churches throughout Chicago where building laws are not enforced are to be closed. Policemen are also to be stationed at the house of worship to prevent further panics.

CANADIAN TRADE GOOD

R. G. Dunn & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "Stringency in the money market has caused no interruption to the wholesale progress of trade and industrial. Weather continues to accelerate the distribution of seasonal merchandise and retail business is of large volume outside the immediate vicinity of the local coal mines and a few other places where local controversies are in progress. Building operations are only limited by the supply of labor and material. The heavy consumption of all commodities is shown by the highest level of quotations since Feb. 18.

Structural shapes and steel rails continue the prominent feature of the iron and steel industry. Canadian mills are getting much business from transcontinental lines, because American railroads cannot make the desired deliveries. Bad roads are a source of complaint in Ontario Canada, but in the North-West and west and in New Ontario the demand is active. Even with weather drawbacks, Easter rains have helped fall-sown wheat and reports are that the crop has come through the winter well, despite lack of snow. There is a rather better appearance to collections. Montreal reports city trade and collections better. Canned tomatoes are still in demand for export to the United States. Butter is easier, but cheese is firm. The rush to mining sections in Northern Ontario helps Toronto trade and building is active throughout the province. Hides and skins are advancing, hardware is active, and dry goods and millinery sell well. Winnipeg reports a good order business, goods, and building material sells free. Collections are improving in British Columbia. Lumber mills are behind on orders for logs and shipping. Failures for the week number 15 as against 17 last week and 21 in this week a year ago. The following are the weekly bank clearings as compared and compiled by Bradstreet for the weeks ending April 12: Montreal, $28,983,136, decrease 7.9; Toronto, $22,785,812; Winnipeg, $8,312,521, increase 47.2; Ottawa, $2,695,345, increase 20.0; Halifax, $1,647,042; Vancouver, $2,239,700, increase 66.1; Quebec, $1,851,157, increase 3.2; Hamilton, $1,238,965, decrease 1.0; St. John, N.B., $1,064,234, increase 21.7; London, Ont., $1,676,476, increase 16.6; Victoria, $894,176, increase 36.2.

MUTINY ON A BATTLESHIP

Relief Vessel Fired on by Mutinous Crew of Portuguese War Ship

Madrid, Apr. 16.--While the Portuguese battleship Vasco Da Gama was opposite Lisbon on April 13th there were unusual movements aboard demanding a crisis and detonations were made and signals made for help. Tug Asoan approached the vessel but was fired upon and retired. A Lieutenant was killed by the crew of the vessel in revenge for the death of a sailor who was killed by the lieutenant as he was trying to fire a cannon. The papers also say that the examination of 483 mutineers of the cruiser Don Carlos, who mutinied April 13th are being held.

SPLENDID CONCERT

The Fox Concert Co. appeared in Robertson's hall last evening and were greeted by an audience both large and appreciative. The quality of entertainment provided was fully up to the splendid standard set by Mr. Fox on former visits and that it was entertainment was amply testified by the hearty applause which expressed approval of each number, and which very frequently amounted to a demand for an encore. Miss Allingham, violinist and Miss Parrat soprano, gave several excellent selections which were thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Klyne, both in her instrumental selections and in the accompaniments, proved an accomplished pianist. But the audience went to see "Jimmy" Fox, allowed the opening numbers, excellent as they were to go without encores until his turn came and when Fox appeared, greeted him with expectant applause which was soon justified by the roars of laughter he provoked and surpassed by the approving applause which marked the conclusion of the number and demanded a response. Mr. Fox was down on the program for six selections but his encores were more numerous than his selections and altogether he sang more than a dozen of the funniest songs ever heard in the city, songs which contained enough of humor to keep the audience in laughter and which were not more rich in humor than the songs of the city of the offensive. Mr. Fox may count on a full house when he returns to Edmonton.

DOING A RUSHING BUSINESS AT THE LAND OFFICE

Men Stood in Line for two Hours This Morning Waiting for Doors to Open

When the doors opened at the land office at 9 o'clock this morning there were fifty men in line to make entry on homesteads some of whom had been there since 7 o'clock. All day the office has been so crowded that it was almost impossible to get in or out. Three rows of men stood outside, packed like sardines in a case, outside the counter, money in hand, waiting their turn to file. Some very interesting scenes and character studies are presented every hour. One man, an Englishman, who returned yesterday from a 120-mile drive to the Pembina and back, looking for a homestead, got a place at the end of the counter and, getting an application blank, proceeded to fill out the form. While he was so doing the man just ahead of him commenced to make application. With his paper half filled, the Englishman stopped. "I guess it's no blooming use for me to wait; that's the ranch I picked, you know."

Homesteaders nowadays are not depending on one choice. Most of the land hunters cover two and sometimes three townships and pick out half a dozen quarters that will suit them. One man at the Immigration office this morning, a Mr. Griffiths, from Port Elizabeth, South Africa, relating his experience, said that he picked on five quarters, and it was lucky for him that he did, as although they were all open when he went out, there was only one left when he got back to the land office. The holiday yesterday, of course, had something to do with the land office being so crowded today, but the Immigration officials say that there is every indication that the stampede for homesteads, which has now set in will keep up unabated for several weeks. The Immigration office, as well as the land office, is crowded every hour of the day and night with men looking for information, and every morning from one to a dozen parties of six, eight or ten, leave the office on a land hunt. The land guides know no holiday this season.

FIELD DAY FOR BRIGADES

The next public holiday is to be a field day for the City Battalion of Boys' Brigades. Company No. 1 of All Saints' and No. 2 of St. Paul's are now outfitted with uniforms and with the regulation Boys' Brigade rifle, and the boys have been drilling hard for the display to be given on Field Day. Yesterday Lieut. A. E. Hopkins took them through skirmishing drill. The brigades are making splendid progress and the boys are taking great interest in the drill. The membership has almost reached the hundred mark, and efforts are being made to increase it considerably before Field Day. Twenty-five new uniforms have been ordered and will be here in a few days.

GATHERING FOR THE GAMES

Naples, April 16.--The North German Lloyd Steamer Barbarossa, having on board the American athletes who are entered to compete in the Olympic games which begin at Athens on April 23, arrived at noon. The arrival was the signal for a demonstration of welcome. There was also on board the Duke of Orleans. The Duke and Duchess of Aosta and many other notabilities were on the pier.

C. P. R. WILL USE ELECTRICITY
An Ottawa despatch says: It is learned the Canadian Pacific Company has decided to await the outcome of a case pending by the New York Central and New York, New Haven & Hartford railway companies before taking steps for the electrification of any part of its system. Both the latter railway are spending enormous sums upon experiments, the former with a direct current and the latter with a single phase alternating current. The alternating current, however, has the advantage of cheaper installation. It does not yet seem to be clear which system is preferable, and while there is so much doubt and uncertainty the C. P. R. prefers to let electricity alone. Once the electrification of steam railways on a large scale has passed beyond the experimental stage, however, there is little doubt that the C. P. R. will be prepared to adopt the system. They have accumulated a lot of data on the subject, and will be prepared to act at the earliest possible moment. The probability of the C. P. R. will in all probability witness the first installation. All the electric power necessary can be obtained from Shawinigan Falls, providing the price is satisfactory. That, however, it is presumed, can easily be arranged.

NEEPAWA OIL FIELDS
A Neepawa despatch says: a company is forming in Winnipeg to bore for oil on an extensive scale at Neepawa. They had an expert here this week and on his return to Winnipeg and after consideration of his report, a Neepawa lawyer was instructed to quietly secure options for an oil lease on several properties near town. They offer to P. J. Stewart and others is to go to $10,000 expense two six inch bore holes, 2,000 feet deep. They bear all the expenses, but the farmer must give a bond to lease the oil rights, if found, for a 10 per cent royalty on the output. It is thought that several options will be closed tomorrow, though the owners of the land are holding back for better offers. The solicitor refuses to say for whom he is acting, but admits the truth of the above report as shown him.

MARK TWAIN AND ARTEMUS WARD
In talking of his lecture on Artemus Ward, Mark Twain told the secretary of his trouble in finding a fitting climax to his famous story of "Ward's encounter with a railroad bore"—a species that he particularly detested—who took the seat beside him in a car on a journey to Washington, shortly after the close of the war. Artemus was engaged in reading, and in no mood for conversation. But the bore was not to be balked.

"Say," he observed to his victim, "dye think Grant'll get the nomination for President?" Artemus looked up from his book (according to Twain), gazed curiously at the stranger, and said, "Grant? Grant? Who's Grant?" Paralyzed for a moment, the inquisitor exclaimed, "You don't mean to say ye never heard of General U. S. Grant?" "Never heard of him," solemnly answered Artemus. This confession dazed his seat-mate for a few minutes; but he returned to the charge with the insinuating suggestion, "They say old Greeley is agin' him." Again the serious eyes were lifted from the book, "Greeley," he asked—"old Greeley? I never heard of him either. It appears to me, that you know more strangers than any man I ever met!" This was indeed a "sockdolager." It took the interlocutor fully ten minutes to recover from his surprise. Meanwhile Artemus was deep in his book. Finally the talkative one could endure it no longer, and he broke out with, "Say you darned fool, if you ever hear of Adam?" "Adam?" Artemus, meditatively, "wh-wh-at was his first name?" This closed the conversation. I couldn't seem to get a good enough climax," said Mark, who confessed to inventing the story, "until I thought of my old friend Adam."—W. H. Merrill, in Harper's Weekly.

CONCEIVE THEIR VARIETY.

Seven distinct physical types of manhood, showing thirty-five variations of the types, and in many cases fifteen sizes of each variation, gives the reader a faint idea of the basic measurements available in a semi-ready store. The ordinary clothes makes his clothes from one district type. In a semi-ready store the clerk can show you a chart, where over 400 sizes and types of figures are represented, and as these are shown in many cloth patterns, a better conception of the certainty of a satisfactory fit in a Semi-Ready store may be had.

THE BOARD OF TRADE
CONVENTION

The third annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Western Canada will be held in the city on Wednesday and Thursday, June 13th and 14th. The Association was the outcome of a meeting of representatives of western boards held in Calgary some two years since to discuss matters of concern to the West. A second convention was held in Regina last year, when the work done by the Association appeared to justify its continuance as a permanent body.

The local board have already begun preparations for the convention and a committee has been selected to arrange subjects for consideration. This committee is getting down to work without delay, and will hold a meeting on Friday evening to discuss the general situation. The members of the committee would be gratified to receive from business men and others suggestions as to matters which might with advantage be discussed and acted on by the convention, and request that those wishing to suggest such subjects communicate with the secretary of the Board before Friday next.

The convention will bring together in the city a very large number of the most influential and enterprising business men from the entire Canadian West, including representatives of several Manitoba and British Columbia Boards. It is desirable, therefore, that the manner of their treatment here be such as to leave on their minds a lasting and favorable impression of the city. It is to be supposed that the members of the local Board of Trade will exert themselves in this matter, but the Board of Trade is an institution without means other than subscriptions and donations either from members or from the public, and should such means not be sufficient for the occasion the city council might well come to the relief of that body and assure such entertainment as will properly present to the delegates the splendid present and the still more splendid future of the city.

While the delegates will be brought together by reason of their being members of boards of trade, the purpose of their gathering is to discuss and further whatever is calculated to make for the advancement of the west as a whole. As such the convention is a recognition of the fact that regardless of the competition that may exist between localities there is a communal interest in western advancement which should elicit the best endeavors of all sections and all classes. In this common interest Edmonton shares quite as much as any city in the west. The visitors should therefore be considered not as guests of the Board of Trade, but as representatives of the business interests of the West. As such the council might very well see to it that the city's interest in their work be voiced and recognized by a fitting treatment of the representatives.

While Edmonton will share in the general benefits resulting from the deliberations of this and future conventions, the city has the opportunity of reaping an additional and direct benefit from the fact that the coming convention will be held in this city, and this opportunity should be neither overlooked nor only partially realized.

ANOTHER HOLD-UP PROPOSED

The Toronto World says editorially that three potentials affect the Hill programme which are worth instant notice:

1. Its effect on prairie land values.
2. Political effect of his not asking for bonuses.
3. Effect on our relationship with the United States.

A fourth "potential" which will very readily occur to the western farmer and business man, but which is blandly overlooked by the Toronto World, is the increased railway facilities and the greater railway competition, which would be secured to the West by the proposed system, and the consequent financial and commercial to the territory affected. This phase of the case is entirely ignored by our eastern friend, and the only "potential" the World can locate of direct and conspicuous importance to the West is the rise in western land values, which would follow the construction of the line. But such increase in values could and would occur only if and because the proposed system would increase shipping facilities, would secure greater competition among carrying companies and would correspondingly lower the charges levied by such companies for their services in developing the commerce of the country.

Having clambered to the remarkable conclusion that the construction of a new line would enhance the value of the adjacent land the World calculator naturally lost sight of the law of cause and effect and favored his readers with this:

In Eastern Canada we only partially realize the stupendous changes produced in the West by the railroad building of the last five or six years. Land which a decade ago could not find customers at any price is now in many localities from $15 to $20 an acre. Millions of acres are being kept out of cultivation by speculators. Far too much land has been collared by bogus homesteaders who have sold their rights to bona fide settlers under the false pretence that they legally owned the land. It is practically impossible to obtain good free land near the railways. By the time the Great Northern system is completed the whole of the arable country will be within comparatively easy reach of the railways.

The Dominion Government, which has prevented the new provinces controlling their own lands, must consider, if it has not already done so, whether free grants of land should not now be stopped, and public revenue correspondingly enhanced.

To do this might conceivably check the flow of immigration. That is scarcely likely to happen to an appreciable extent, for, with increased marketing facilities, the settler of today who buys land at a reasonable price is in a much better case than the settler of 20 years ago, who had the pick of townships for nothing. The argument appears to be—

That because of the "stupendous changes produced in the west by the railroad building of the past few years" similar changes in the future should be prevented by the destruction of the conditions under which the past changes have taken place;

That because "land which a decade ago could not find customers at any price is now worth from $15 to $20 an acre" a repetition of this change in the condition of affairs should not be permitted;

That because "millions of acres are being kept out of cultivation by speculators," the Government should keep the remainder out of cultivation by imposing a financial penalty on the men who would propose to cultivate it;

That because "far too much land has been collared by bogus homesteaders who have sold their rights to bona fide settlers under false pretence that they legally owned the land," the door should be closed to the bona fide settler and the remaining land permitted to be "collared" by the financial magnates who alone could and would take advantage of the land selling policy proposed by the World;

That because "it is practically impossible to obtain good free land near the railways" it should be made actually and completely impossible to obtain good free land near the proposed railway.

That because "By the time the Great Northern system is completed the whole of the arable country will be within comparatively easy access of railways," the land along such system should be made valueless to the settler by attaching to its occupation a condition which would mean starvation; And that the surest means to attain these ends is to abandon the "land for actual settler" policy and revert to the "land for revenue" policy under which for twenty years the land was kept from the settler and the revenue from the Government.

The means is admirably adapted to the ends indicated we believe almost as firmly as that "The settler of today who buys land at a reasonable price is in a much better case than the settler of 20 years ago who had the pick of townships for nothing," and wouldn't take the "pick"; and quite as firmly as that both means and ends have been, are and will continue to be, the Conservative land policy for Western Canada.

SOME RICH SATIRE

The Regina Leader reproduces the following amendment suggested by Hon. J. A. Calder, as the form which should have been given the amendment proposed by the Opposition to the address in reply to the speech from the throne. The article is one of the richest pieces of satire yet produced in western politics and if the Saskatchewan Minister of Education can train the rising generation of that province to write essays of this quality the literary future of that province is assured:

"While gladly joining with your Honor in mutual felicitations upon the establishment of the province of Saskatchewan, we must express our very deep regret that the free and enlightened people of this province have in their wisdom seen fit to approve, by an overwhelming majority, the terms and conditions on which the province has been admitted into the confederation of Canada.

"In the year 1902 the people of the North-West Territories were asked to endorse the provisions of what is commonly termed the 'Haultain Draft Bill' and after a strenuous campaign extending over the lengthy period of three weeks, during which the then leader of the Government failed to expound his policy and make plain the provisions of his Draft Bill on any platform in the Territories outside of his own back settlement, the electors, as might naturally be expected under such circumstances, recorded what has frequently been referred to by the President of the Provincial Rights Party as a snap verdict in favor of the proposals contained in the said bill. In view of this fact we utterly fail to comprehend, and most sincerely deplore the very emphatic decision reached by the electors of Saskatchewan on December 13 last, especially as they had been given ample opportunity to carefully weigh and consider the actual terms of the constitution that had been granted the province.

"As a consequence we desire to place on record our strongest disapprobation of the principle of giving the electors of the province at the time of a general election the fullest opportunity to consider and discuss public questions affecting their interests.

"We further desire to express our unqualified approval of the principle of importing into the province at the time of a general election such world-renowned orators as J. Lockie Wilson, Robert Lorne Richardson, and Lewis Gabriel, men who though residing in far distant lands are famed for their ultra loyalty to British traditions, their patriotism in refusing Railway Commissionerships, their scrupulous respect for the sentiments and convictions of their fellow citizens of different origin and religion, their horror of election trials and of anything smacking of election irregularities, when not committed in their own interests, the general integrity and conspicuous veracity, and their pertinacity in clinging to their personal wearing apparel, and who, through their almost total ignorance of the requirements of the province are pre-eminently qualified to advise and instruct our unenlightened fellow citizens on the duties of citizenship.

"In view of the opportunity that would be afforded the public men of this province to dabble in lands and materially assist such of their friends as are of a speculative turn we deem it most unfortunate that the public domain of the province should remain in the hands of the Parliament of Canada to be administered for settlement purposes, and as we are strongly inclined to the view that the immigration policy of the Interior Department is most unsatisfactory and is inimical to the political fortunes of the Conservative party, we hope that the Government of Saskatchewan will take such steps as are necessary to inaugurate a policy of their own notwithstanding the fact that their doing so may involve an expenditure by the province of a few hundred thousand dollars annually.

"We not only dissent from the principle of money grants in lieu of lands, but we most unreservedly dissent from the action of the Federal Parliament of Canada, in providing in the Saskatchewan Act that the province should be paid this year out of Dominion funds the pittance of $1,124,125, an amount somewhat larger than was granted to the whole of the North-West Territories during the last year of its existence. Rather than accept any money whatsoever from the Federal authorities we firmly believe that the people of the province are anxiously willing and ready to impose upon themselves the necessary taxes to raise the amount required to carry on the government of the country.

"Regardless of the fact that the Haultain Draft Bill provided for the continuation and perpetuation of the existing school system, we desire to record our emphatic protest against those provisions of the Saskatchewan Act, which assume to continue the self-same system and that too even though it has worked out satisfactorily and is acceptable to the great majority of the people of the province. While we recognize that every child in the state under the present law has an equal right and an equal opportunity to obtain exactly the same education as every other child, and while we thoroughly understand that the Government of the province has absolute and full control over every school in the province we deem it most unfair and unreasonable on the part of the electors that they should have thwarted the plans of the Conservative party of the Dominion whereby they hoped, through stirring up a racial and religious war throughout Canada, to gain control of office at Ottawa.

"While we admittedly view with alarm the successful attempt which was made to disunite the people of the province into two hostile camps, and while we recognize that we were instrumental in opening the floodgates of hatred, bitterness and passion, we soon hope by continued agitation and by more strenuous appeals to the racial and religious prejudices of our fellow citizens to bring about that unity and harmony which is so essential to the progress and prosperity of the west.

"While prepared to stand loyally by the constitution we announce our firm intention of continuing to breathe rebellion until such time as we have succeeded in having established in Saskatchewan that system of absolute national schools which exists in the province of Manitoba and which was established only after years of the most peaceful negotiation—a system which provides for separate normal schools for the training of Roman Catholic teachers—a system which provides for the distinct instruction of certain classes of schools by officials especially appointed for the purpose—a system which eliminates the teaching of English from a large percentage of the schools—and a system which permits the introduction and use of distinct text-books in different classes of schools. We boldly and without reservation announce this to be the national system we approve.

"We further most respectfully request that the provincial Government should the 13th of December last and during the warm winter months, has not seen fit to undertake and complete the construction of the Hudson's Bay railway, involving, as it does, the expenditure of only a few million dollars. We had hoped that when we met here the provincial Minister of Railways would have been in a position to hand to each of us a pass for transportation over the Government owned and operated railway from the capital to Port Churchill. As we now find that the road has not yet been completed and as it would appear that the Government of the province is inclined to the view that the construction of the road should be undertaken as a Federal eral work we have no hesitation in denouncing their shortcomings and at the same time placing ourselves on record as being most strenuously opposed to the principle of allowing the Parliament of Canada to expend money on any railways to be built for the benefit of the people of Saskatchewan.

"With heads bowed in sorrow we admit freely and unreservedly that the Great Conservative party of Canada, when not the zenith of its power, for some reason now unknown to us, saw fit, contrary to the united and determined opposition of the Liberal party at Ottawa, to write into a charter granted to the C. P. R. Co. a provision whereby that company would be exempt from taxation forever on the major portion of the property which it owned in the province or provinces to be created in future out of the Northwest Territories. But while admitting this gross error on the part of the party to which we owe allegiance, we cannot refrain from denouncing, in the strongest possible language the puerile weakness of the then Opposition at Ottawa, which allowed the Government of the day, even after a prolonged debate, to barter away our provincial rights. And we desire to place on record our firm conviction that the present Government of Saskatchewan is equally blamable for what then happened, and that it is largely, if not altogether responsible for the fact that our schools and municipalities are not at the present time deriving taxes from C. P. R. property.

"In conclusion and chiefly it is our desire and we feel it to be our bounden duty and solemn obligation to give timely warning to the people of this province that in our unbiased opinion the Government in which the electors have very improperly reposed confidence as well as all and sundry their supporters and all the citizens who voted for them are back-settlers and also either imported crooks, blacklegs, jail-birds or thugs; and that more particularly the Prime Minister is a traitor, a self-confessed betrayer, and a briber whose word, in our opinion, is utterly unworthy of credence against the word of a convicted libeller and perjurer; that the Minister of Agriculture is a thief whose pecuniaries are confined not only to articles of apparel, but extend to the copyrighted methods and policy of the former Minister of Agriculture, which policy had been highly commended and warmly endorsed by the Hon. John Dryden; that the Minister of Education is a whiskey pedlar and a consort with Senators, Members of Parliament and similar disreputable characters and is guilty of the heinous crime of continuing the administration of a school system which our leader has declared that if ever he were dictator he would not change one iota; and that the Attorney-General in his single person possesses all the enumerated virtues of the other three; that he should forthwith be dismissed from office because of his failure to secure the apprehension and punishment of diverse unsuspected and unknown election rascals and because he has temporarily suspended from office an official charged with administering justice with gross partiality, and still further that our confidence in our own British Judge and jury system is shaken by the fact that our Provincial Rights president, a chivalrous gentleman, the soul of honor, whose uses of private and confidential communications prove him to be a worthy head of a party whose main success was won by the misrepresentation of an anonymous document as an Archbishop's pastoral or nomenclature, and whose encounters with the truth upon oath in the witness box, make an example for the young in the province to shun, has been convicted and punished for libelling your First Minister, whose misdeeds and lack of character are elsewhere herein depicted in terms which fail to do the unsavory subject full justice.

"Finally and lastly, we desire to strongly declare our view and claim that it is an unpardonable wrong that any person and particularly the chief advisor of the Lieutenant-Governor of the province, should be permitted to criticize friends and allies of the Conservative party, the C. P. R. Company in their praiseworthy efforts to lend aid and comfort to His Majesty's Loyal Opposition in Saskatchewan and with special reference to the laudable, even if ill-advised and uncalculated, attempt of officials of the Company to provide a separate school candidate to bear the anti-coercion banner in the historic, stiff-necked and rebellious district of Batoche."

Terrible Work of Vesuvius

The present activity of Vesuvius is of a most serious character is proved conclusively by the destruction of the observatory. This lightning of science has been perched near the volcano for more than half a century, and in that time has given warning of many an eruption, besides collecting an enormous mass of information concerning Vesuvius. In itself the panic of the inhabitants would not be evidence of a destructive flow of lava, nor would the indifference of the residents be proof of safety. That the outburst has found new channels is indicated by the destruction of the observatory, for it was erected at a spot that scientists considered absolutely safe, and has lived through many terrifying eruptions. A great loss to the people of the district is the record to date of the latest eruption.

Scientists declare that in prehistoric ages Vesuvius was an active volcano, but there is no record of an eruption till A.D. 79, when Pompeii, Herculaneum, and Stabiae were destroyed. Research has revealed a guess by a writer before this date to the effect that Vesuvius was volcanic but there was no positive proof of the mountain's danger until the eruption mentioned. The inhabitants of the doomed cities had warning of their danger, if only they could have read the signs in 63-64, when a terrible earthquake threw down most of the buildings in Pompeii, and caused destruction in Naples. The work of rebuilding was only about completed when the awful eruption took place. After the terrible devastation of 79 there was a long period of calm, which was not broken until 203, when there was a second eruption. In 472 the third outbreak occurred, and several villages were wiped out of existence. In this eruption it is said that the ashes were carried for thousands of miles. "All Europe was covered with them," says one historian, and the people in Constantinople were terrified. Other outbreaks were recorded in 512, 685 and 939. In 1036 lava was observed for the first time, the destruction previously having been caused by the ashes and the poisonous gases that belched from the crater. In 1189-9 there was an eruption and then there was no sign of activity until 1236.

In 1500 there was a minor eruption, and then in 1631, without warning, came the deadliest eruption of all. In this year 18,000 people were destroyed by lava and water, or by the earthquake which accompanied the outburst. So terrific was the earthquake that a tidal wave was caused, and great loss of life entailed among those who had sought refuge on the water. A devastating series of waterfalls marked the eruption of 1631. The deluge was caused, partly by the bodily upheaval of a large lake that had formed within the crater and partly by the enormous quantities of steam being precipitated on the earth as rain. A peculiar feature of the eruption was the stream of lava that is directed toward buried Herculaneum, covering part of the ruins and giving rise to the fallacious theory that lava had originally destroyed the three cities. Moreover, it is the lava of the seventeenth century that has made the recent work of excavation so much more difficult in Herculaneum than in Pompeii.

The eruption of 1676 was remarkable for the perpendicular stream of lava that shot into the air, to an incredible distance. A stream of lava four miles long and a hundred yards wide poured forth in 1694, and in 1793 the discharge of ashes turned day to night in Naples. Again, in 1797 there was an immense discharge of lava, estimated at 200,000,000 cubic feet. On this occasion the vapors following the eruption proved unusually deadly. In 1760 there was an eruption that overwhelmed Torre del Greco, and completed the work of the eruption of 1631. In 1765-70 there were serious eruptions, all observed by Sir William Hamilton, in one British Ambassador at Naples. In one of them the mob in Naples was entertained that it attempted to burn the palace of the Cardinal Archbishop, because he refused to bring out the relics of St. Januarius and thus quell Vesuvius. The ashes were carried for twenty miles, and a stream of liquid fire was shot three miles above the volcano.

More eruptions occurred in 1793-4, lasting for about 18 months, and terrifying the inhabitants of the plain below. A wall of lava a mile wide swept down the mountain in 1822, and twelve years later the Village of Caposecco was destroyed and the heat of the lava fell ten miles away. The lava almost reached Naples in 1855, and the inhabitants were again terror-stricken. In 1867 there were more eruptions, and in 1872 a fatal overflow, several tourists and students upon the mountain losing their lives in the storm of ashes. As has been said, the observatory staff at Vesuvius, toward the maintenance of which much British money has gone, was able to collect valuable information on the subject of volcanoes and earthquakes. Perhaps the most important generalization from a practical point of view which can be based on the data thus collected is that eruptions are more likely to occur and are more serious when the moon is at the full, or new, and that the mild eruptions occur when the moon is in its quarters.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE

At a recent meeting of Union 1325 Carpenters and Joiners the following resolution was passed:

Edmonton, Alta., Apr. 6, 1906. Whereas it has been the will of the Supreme Ruler of the Universe to enter the circle of our order, and remove from us our brother Thomas Elliott, therefore be it

Resolved that the sudden removal of such a life from our midst leaves a vacancy that will be deeply realized by all the members and friends of this organization and will prove a great loss to the community and public, and be it further

Resolved that while we bow in humble submission to the will of God, we sincerely mourn the death of our friend and brother, and extend to the many bereaved friends and family our heartfelt sympathy and condolence and be it further

Resolved that our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, that a page of our minute book be set apart for these resolutions as a tribute of respect to the memory of our late brother, that a copy be presented to the bereaved family and that copies be sent to the Edmonton papers for publication.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE DUCK LAKE FIGHT

Prince Albert, March 28.—Just 21 years ago on the 28th of March, Col. Irvin and his forces evacuated Fort Carlton and fell back on Prince Albert. The battle of Duck Lake had been fought two days before on the 26th. The rebellion practically started on March 19th 1885, when Louis Riel raided Walters & Baker's store at Batoche. Mr. Walters is now dead, but Ald. F. C. Baker of this city is the other partner. The latter was in Prince Albert at the time and Mr. Walters was captured and held prisoner for awhile. Major Crozier in command of the Mounted Police at Fort Carlton feared an attack and Jos. McKay, Jr., now interpreter for the Mounted Police at Prince Albert was sent to this city with a despatch to Capt. Moffat asking for reinforcement. A public meeting was held in Andrew McDonald's store and volunteers selected. The brass band turned out and played lively airs as the citizen soldiers marched away to Carlton.

A home guard was formed of the remainder, Captain Deacon commanding one company and Geo. S. Davidson the other. The Presbyterian church was turned into a barracks, a fortification being built around it of cordwood and those who lived in Prince Albert twenty-one years ago certainly dwell "in the midst of alarms."

On March 26th, eight teams, a policeman and a volunteer in each rig, started from Duck Lake to get oats from Mitchell's building. They met Gabriel Dumont and 40 rebels chasing two policemen. They surrounded the teams and demanded that they surrender, but Sergt. Stewart refused and they all returned to Carlton.

Major Crozier ordered Sergt. Stewart to return to Duck Lake and an escort of about 80 or 90 police and citizen soldiers accompanied him. A. S. Stewart and James Mack of this city were the scouts for the party. They discovered the enemy in force just before reaching Duck Lake. The force from Carlton was greatly outnumbered and in addition the rebels had cover while the Carlton volunteers were in the open protected only by a slim rail fence while the police had the protection of the sleighs. Major Crozier accompanied by Jos. McKay first held a parley with chief Star Blanket and two councillors. An attempt was made to capture the two loyalists which resulted in the death of two Indians. Young Gibson, who drove the ammunition wagon was the first to fall. He was shot through the heart. Finally to avoid being surrounded, Major Crozier had to withdraw to Fort Carlton. Owing to the deep snow, the dead and wounded could not be removed and all the wounded were brutally killed by the Indians except Chas. Newitt, Tom. Sanderson, of Grosbeak River, a brother of James Sanderson a prisoner of Louis Riel's came to Carlton and said they could have the bodies. Mr. Sanderson and Wm. Drain returned for the bodies. Burial took place and the honored dead were laid to rest in St. Mary's and Prince Albert cemeteries. Col. Irvin arrived with 200 men at Fort Carlton the day of the fight and had he but advanced to Duck Lake the tide of battle would have been turned. Prince Albert's citizen soldiers suffered terribly in the fight 10 being killed and three wounded, while the police had three killed. On March 28 Fort Carlton was evacuated and Major Crozier brought his forces to the town of Prince Albert. It was not till the fall of Batoche in May, however, and the arrival of Gen. Middleton that the people drew a breath of relief.

THE NATAL DISTURBANCES

(Toronto Globe)

The disturbance in Natal in which Mr. Churchill, the Under-Secretary for the Colonies, intervened so readily, appears to be due to the resentment of the natives over a poll-tax which has been recently imposed in that colony. The poll-tax was found to be evaded by a large number of natives who virtually had no hut to be taxed, and the poll-tax was devised so that the very section of the community whom the colonial authorities were most anxious to bring under the responsibility of a tax might be reached. Long before the imposition of the poll-tax in Natal the Ethiopian movement had been disturbing the natives. The Ethiopian movement as far as it can be interpreted, is a vague demand for greater consideration than the black man now thinks he enjoys.

The poll-tax coming as an aggravation of this, intensified the feeling, and its collection has been resisted. At a place called Brns, near Pietermaritzburg, a sergeant and policeman, who were enforcing the payment of the tax, were attacked by a number of natives and both killed. The news of the incident came at a time when the white population was more than nervous over the fear of native uprising. In a population where the blacks so enormously outnumber the whites a native uprising could not fail to be a horror from which the mind shrinks. From what can be learned the minority, when the news of the murder was flashed over the colony, did maintain that bold front which is necessary if the black fellow is to be held firm in the opinion that the white man is his superior. There was, in fact, something resembling a panic.

The authorities, however, took prompt steps to assert the might of the law. The militia were called out, the Imperial authorities sent down the Cameron Highlanders from Pretoria, and every possible thing done tending to overawe the disaffected natives and reassure the white settlers. The natives concerned in the murder were arrested, and after trial were condemned to be hanged. It was with the carrying out of this sentence that Mr. Churchill attempted to interfere—a most unwelcome action under all the circumstances. The colonists must be left to a large extent to deal with the native problem in their own way. There are certain great principles that they cannot be allowed to ignore, but within a permissible area they may be regarded as knowing best what ought to be done. The South African black cannot be civilized with lilies and rosewater or by Exeter Hall meetings. He must be treated with justice, but made to thoroughly understand that his numbers do not give him license to break laws and to rise murderous disturbances whenever his anger is aroused.

For the present the rifles are being used with the rod bayonet.
